

May 3 update

Submitted by dcecil on Tue, 05/03/2011 - 09:49

Date:

Tue, 05/03/2011

The forecast looks dry for the foreseeable future. We are considering an ER-2 flight in the next few days to check the instruments, possibly investigate surface emissivity with a strong gradient of soil moisture across Oklahoma (very wet in southeast, dry in west), and possibly fly over Gulf of Mexico buoys for instrument calibration.